General Sickles Wouldn't Take an Office, but Spoke His Mind Freely.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

CANTON, Oct., 19-Major McKinley was up early, took a drive and called on Sunday guests just before the departure to the railway station. The generals special train left Canton about 8:30 for a swing ground eastern Ohio. They finish the Ohio tour tonight at Cleveland, entering Michigan tomorrow morning.

It was freezing weather this morning but the big tabernacle was crowded and 730 flags festoons, and flowers made the scene warmly brilliant. Generals How. ard, Alger Marden, Stewart, Corporal Tanner and Generals Burst, Walker, Bickles, made speeches. Canton's Woman's Relief corps presented the generals with baskets of flowers. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic of the campaign. General Sickles was in the chair He said he was a democrat and there was no office in the government he would take. He said the ilver mine owners could make $150,000,000 per year if the government would stamp free of charge for them 50 cents worth of stiver as a dollar.

He said the mine owners had a fund of two million dollars and their program was to deluge and corrupt all the doubtful states, if any exist, a few days before

Sheriff Tuttle Discovered and Frus trated the Scheme. Old Prisoners Concerned.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.] KEEFE, N. H., Oct. 19.-An almost succossful attempt at wholesale jail breaking at the county jail occurred Friday and

Traces of white dust, which the sheriff thought were suspicious, were discovered in the rear of the jall, but a sharp inspection of the exterior at that part of the wall disclosed nothing.

Not satisfied, the sheriff went inside and at the end of the corridor found the boards at the back of the bath tub had been lifted and brick and mortar removed from the wall so that only a thin shell remained. A kick would have opened a placed and there was nothing to indicate anything wrong. Questioning the prison ers the sheriff was convinced that the whole sixteen were in the plot.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY

To be Celebrated by Clan McIntyre With a Grand Concert-

The social and amusement committee of lan McIntyre have at considerable expense engaged one of the finest concert ompanies in the United States for their second annual celebration of St. Andrew's lay. It will take place at Columbia opera house November 25. The artists are as Madame Barutio, the celebrated Boston oprano, who last winter sung in most of he principal cities of America with great uiceess: Miss Dot. Read, the "Queen of Scottish dancers;" Blanche Gibbs, the little girl who appeared with Madame Barutio at the clan's anniversary concert last April. All who heard her will remember that she was a great success on George Fulton, tenor vocalist, late of the Balmoral choir. This singer also appeared here last April and made a great impression. His singing of "Annie Laurie" and Burns' famous song, "O a' the Airts" is really magnificent.

William Abercrombie, baritone, one of the finest of his class in Boston or vicinity. He has appeared time after time at Madame Baratio's concerts and it is quite a treat to hear both of them in their celebrated duets. Duncan McLean will give selections on the Scottish bagpipes. C. J. Russell, cornet soloist, one of the fluest players in New England. Miss Grace Monroe of Boston, pignist, will be the accompanist.

Prior to the concert the Schubert club died at his home this morning, aged 74 | orchestra, Byron G. Briggs, director, will give selections from "Rob Roy," by Do Coven, the latest and most successful Scotch opera. The prices of admission are: Reserved seats, 50 and 35 cents; general admission, 25 equis.

For their enterprising spirit this committee deserve the support of the public as seldom has such a strong combination been engaged to appear on the North Adams concert stage. It is a standing principle of Clan McIntyre in these entertainments always to give good value for the money charged, and this occasion, as will be seen from the talented artists engaged, will be no exception.

"Clau McIntyre,"

At a regular meeting of this society. held on Friday evening, it was resolved the first contract abroad for the sale of | unanimously to endorse the social and amusement committee's prompt action in securing such an excellent array of talent for their second annual St. Andrews celebration concert, to be held November 25

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT.

An Opera That Theatrical Managers Would Not Allow to Retire.

Last season Messrs, D. W. Truss & Co. innounced the farewell tour of the comic opera, "Wang." Thousands flocked to see the favorite characters and listen to the ever melodious music and see the famous elephant, little children, etc. It was unquestionably one of the monetary successes of the year, playing to career. All the bright paraphernalis was stored away, the elephant was taken apart and packed away, the music was placed on the shelf, so to speak, and Wang" was laid down to have a long rest, but this was not to be. Manager: throughout the country soon commenced to inquire as to whether there was a possibility of securing the opera for their respective cities. The owners of "Wang" fought against the numerous requests until a perfect avalanche of requests everything in the shape of scenery. cos. tumes and properties brand-new. Even the elephant has a new trunk. In all, no doubt this season's production will surpass all others ever seen of this merry opera. The cast will be about the same as last season, with one or two changes which the management thought best. Mr. Al. CONDEMNS THE BIJOU.

Chief Kendall Spares No. Words in De. nouncing the Resort. A Strange Story.

Andrew Dodd of Adams reports to Chief Kendall this morning that he had been assaulted in the Bijou theater and wanted to obtain redress in some manner. His story was quite dramatic. He claims he attended the Thursday afternoon per formance at the Bijou and that the audience numbered about a dozen persons While the show was in progress the lights poured on them and then they decided to were suddenly extinguished and an nake a special tour this season with attempt was made to rob him. He says he felt a hand slipped into his pocket and when he resisted he received a heavy blow on the face. His face certainly bears evidence of a blow of some sort, as his nose is swollen and bruised. The chief will investigate the story.

> Chief Kendall makes the statement that he has witnessed several performances in the Bijou, and he pronounces the place to partiality to a little boy that had a goodbe of a very disreputable character. He says the Bijou is lower and more disgusting than any of the New York Bowery theaters and should be closed permanently vest years ago. Mr. Miller. Mr. Bissell and Mr. Long were students who taught at Buxton in my time. They were all good teachers. Four Wright boys, whose father had bought the Buckley place, came to school. They were all good scholars. Ashley B. was one of our star spellers. He was a studious boy. Helen Sanders (now Mrs. Ranney of Mulberry Corners, O., tells her children to this day how Ashley Wright spelled her down on the word "prairie" at a spelling match, and she wonders if he remembers it. We always speak of him now as our member of congress, and when we are asked if we know the Hon. A. B. Wright we try not to be proud, but answer in the most matter-of-fact voice we can command: "Oh yes, he used to be a schoolmate of ours in uld Buxton."

Charles Wright was a jolly good boy. full of fun, always so good natured and full of fun, always so good natured and kind hearted no one could get angry at his pranks. He lives in Pittsfield now. A few years ago when I was in that city a grave, scholarly looking man was pointed out to me as Charlie Wright. I gazed at him and tried to see some looks of the fun-loving boy I remembered sc well, but in vain. As I looked at him I wondered by about six yards.

Henry was a very quiet boy, devoted to his books, and a fine scholar. He is a lawyer in New York city now. Edward A. was a bright little fellow with a mind of his own. We all knew if Eddie made up his mind to do anything he thought he rould do it. He lives in North Adams, We had one teacher we used to play all kind of pranks on. Not that we disliked him, but, as the late Artemas Ward would have said, "just from pure cussed ness," and because we thought he showed looking sister. Sometimes when the master returned from dinner he would find every blind closed and the door festened and not a child to be seen. The scholars were all up to Sanders' playing high spy. And once Ashley Wright put his watch back from 3 to 1 and we all marched into the schoolroom single file took a turn around the stove and seated ourselves with becoming gravity. Once the odor of red pepper burning on the stove set us all coughing and sneczing, but the teacher was equal to the occasion. He forbade the raising of a window and would not have the door open, and we nearly sneezed our heads off. He never scolded or punished us as he ought, and all the satisfaction we got out of it was to make the teacher look black in the face, as we called it, for when he was angry he never spoke, but he would look dreadful.

The old red school house has been noved upon the hillside, and there it stands windowless, looking quite forsaken, and it will soon be no more. Many of the old-time scholars have passed away, and the rest are growing old, but as long as one of us lives old Buxton will hold a warm place in our hearts. I hope no one will think these sketches are like the little brook and will keep running forever as this is the last I shall write.

A Reckless Driver's Mishap.

Friday afternoon a team of horses drawing a market wagon came tearing madly down the street, the driver lashing them until they were completely beyond control. Several other teams which were COMFORTABLES. returning from North Adams were directly in the path of the infuriated animals and they barely managed to get out of the way in time. Nothing was struck until they reached the railroad crossing near the postoffice, when the pole of the wagon struck the large square post which supports the "Look out for the engine" sign. As a consequence the wagon was wrecked in a very scientific manner. Neither driver nor horses were burt, which was somewhat surprising, considering the force of the shock. The man was VanBoren Church of Pittsburgh, N. V. and he had such a load of liquor that he didn't know whether he was driving a horse or a husking pumpkins. Within five minutes after the accident the street in front of the postoffice was completely alled with teams, all of which and been in danger from the wreckless driving of Church. He should have been arrested for drunkenness and careless driving, but nothing was done.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS VERY BRIGHT.

The old saying that it is sometimes darkest just befor e the dawn, seems applicable in business matters at the present time. While times a re hard yet the future s bright with busin, as hope. Activity, Henry of vortrand plenty of money for new industries are orly waiting on McKinley's Jection. Tae financial situation in the great cities warrants this hopein l view of the business situation. A summary of the figancial outlook from Boston bulletins of last Saturday conclude, that the only factor that checks a natural upwa."d movement in general trade is the approxiching election. That affects monetary counditions and induces conservatism to sucia a

The Boston News Bureau, the highest financial authority in New England, says that it does not require, however, an exceptionally sagacious mind to read the signs of the times. Natural laws have been peculiarly favorable to this country; what "outs" exist are of our own making. We are blessed with abundant crops and | The world hath very little it can give are reaping whatever advantage there may be in a reduced yield the world over. As a result we are finding an unprecedented foreign demand for our product which, without the aid of any speculative forces, has advanced the price of grain some 14 cents a bushel. The receipts of all grains at Chicago this week will aggregate something like 15,000,000 bushels, a total never before reached in the history of the country. That trade is reviving everywhere throughout the world is best shown by our foreign trade statement for September. With such revival, the tremendous supplies of gold which have so long lain idle in the vaults of European

Money that is now hoarded will seek employ ment and the ham of industry will be heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the lakes to the Gulf. Close of servers of the situation believe that actual conditions today are much like those prevailing in 1879. We have been through a long period of liquidation, of distrust, of duliness. We have witnessed shut-downs of manufactories, stocks have been reduced to the minimum and now we are approaching the point when a change in centiment caused by demand overtaking supply will make for one of those active periods and advancing conditions seldom witnessed more than once in a genera-

SOUND MONEY FLAG DAY.

Chairman Hanna of the Republican Kational committee wants every Republison in the land to show his politics on October 31 by displaying United States flags "wherever they may be seen." In his letter issued for this purpose, the Republican chairman says: The American flag has been in the political campaign the emblem or insignia of national honor. Its influences have been for great good in the cause of a good poole. Its display in many places has been potent in the advancement of the country's battle for the maintenance of its had or at home and abroad.

> Two Sunday papers charged Mr. Magenis with "borrowing eloquence" from the New York Snn for his speech made last Wednesday night. Well, that speech disappointed a good many of Mr. Magenis's enemies, and the figure of speech which it is assumed he had no right to use was not any older or more "borrowed" than some stories told on the platform the same night. "There is nothing new under the sun," and Mr. Magenia does not claim the idea expressed to be original, It had been given in public speeches here in North Adams before. No one will prob. ably chare Mr. Magenia with having borrowed as delivery. But perhaps they may.

Is England about to acknowledge that she is wrong in the Venezueian matters? It looks that way. The statement of Sir Edward Clarke in the House of Commons Friday is only one of the significant pointers toward this conclusion. It is believed here that Sir Edward's declaration, amounting as it does to a virtual abandonment of the British contention, was inspired by the Salisbury government with a view to preparing the English pub lie for what the Conservative leaders know must come.

THE MEANING OF BRYANISM.

Free Silver a Cloak For Socialism.

Absolute Change In the Form of Government.

New York Lawyers Think That the Election of President and Senators by Popniar Vote, the Extension of the Presidential Term and the Abolition of the Yeto Power Are Part of the Popocratic Programme.

In a letter to the Philadelphia Press, Holland, the famous New York correspendent, says 800 lawyers have organized a sound money lawyers' organization. These lawvers are against the free coinage plank of the Chicago platform, but it is the other principles contained in the platform which cause the lawyers even more anxiety than the proposition to open the mints to free silver. General Harrison suggested that anxiety when in his Carnegie hall address he began with an allusion to the supreme court plank of the Chicago platform and then devoted a considerable part of his speech to a clear exposition of the extreme revolutionary nature of that plank, as he did also to the kindred plank which denounces the interference of the federal courts to prevent violence and intimidation and the use of federal troops to protect the mails, the lives and preperty of citizens of the United States and interstate commerce. "The opinion prevails among the leading members of the bar here," says Holland, "that the free silver agitation is really only an incident or a temperary makeshift in this campaign, which has a social and political revolution in the true meaning of that term in view. It is recalled that such free silver advemoney A vote for the Republican nomi. | cates as Bland have confessed that they nees is the duty of every Republican.' | regard free silver as merely a stepping stone to an irredeemable paper currency, and that Bryan himself is on record as "With Bryan President, Altgeld should favoring for the permanent currency of this country issues of paper money with nothing but the faith of the government

> "The question which lawyers have discussed here is this: Precisely what is the programme of the leaders of this new agitation? What do they want to do, and how do they propose to accomplish their purposes? Bryan's speeches have been read with the nimost care by such men as Peckham, Condert, Seward, Butler, Root, Fox and other leaders of our bar, to discover if possible exactly in what way he proposes to remedy the wrongs of which he complains with so > much vagne vehemence. "So far they have been unable to discover in any of Bryan's speeches a single clear statement of the manner in which the remedies which he proposes shall be formulated into law, excepting, of course, the opening of the mints by law to the free coipage of silver. There is not a hint of the manner in which he proposes to readjust the supre to what he calls the new needs and influences of the time. He has, it is true. declared that he would not send federal troops into any state to suppress disorder unless requested by the governor or the legislature of that state. He has suggested that he approves the passage of a law limiting the power of the courts to enjoin labor organizations and transferring from a judge to a jury the right of determining contempt proceedings. But he has, either willfully or else because he has no clear idea of the legal formula which will be necessary to bring about the reforms he seeks, re> frained from suggesting the manner in which these reforms are to be accomprished. "Ex-Judge Davis, speaking of this recently, said that when the Repubhean party began its career its purpose was set forth with the clearness and explicitness of a judicial opinion. It proposed simply to prevent the extension of slavery into any territory of the United States—a purpose which would be accomplished by a brief statute law. But today the majority of those, at least in the east, who are acting with the free silver party have not the slightest conception of the manner in which the alleged reforms which Bryan so passionately calls for may be effected. It has been impossible until within a few days to get what lawyers tegard as a clear and satisfactory statement of the purposes of the Popocratic party, in case it be successful. "They have at last obtained some intimation, set forth with the explicitness and clearness of judicial treatment by Judge Clark of North Carolina, esteemed by many to be the ablest member of the Populist party, and last spring a favorite candidate for the presidential nomination of that party of a large number of Populists. It is thought by lawyers here to be the real propaganda of the abler men who are behind Bryan. and it is welcomed as a tangible, concise and definite statement of principles and the legal manner in which they are to be set forth as law if the Popocratio party gains complete control of the gov-

"Those lawyers here who have read this statement of principles and of proposed legislation or change of the organic law do not hesitate to say that it simply contemplates absolute revolution in the American form of government. Some of the purposes are entertained by many persons who would shrink with horrer from associating with this revelucionary party, as, for instance, the election of senators by popular vote, the extension of the presidential term to six ' Speech on the Supreme Court.

years, and even the election of the president by a popular vote. Those, it is thought, are questions of expediency rather than of vital principle. But another proposition—that the veto power be abolished—is looked upon as a revolutionary abolishment of an important and rarely abused presidential power. It clearly means that it is the purpose of the Popocratic party absolutely to control legislation without any check from the executive or from the supreme

"It is also the purpose of the Popocratic party to reach the supreme court by changing the manner of appointment and by limiting the term to a certain number of years. The judges are to be elected for a fixed term. That, of course, involves a change in the organic law, and it is the intention of this new party to persevere until this change shall be accomplished. It is this proposition which contains the mest revolutionary of the purposes of the party. There is not a lawyer here who has read of this purpose who hesitates to declare that if it be accomplished the value and authority of the supreme court will be greatly impaired. That branch of the government, as Mr. Condert points out, has been the saving institution of the republic, in the opinion of all the European students of the American form government from Do Tocqueville down to Bryce.

"The inevitable result would be to take from the supremeteourt in fact, if not in name, the power to determine constitutional questions, and, with the veto power abrogated, the initiative, as well as the final authority of legislation, would be in congress. With the senato elected by the people, practically within the immediate control of the people, the president orippled and the supremo court subordinated, those conservative checks which the experience of other republics taught the fathers of our own were necessary for the preservation of a republican democracy would be abolished. It is only within a few weeks that the bar of this city and state has fully appreciated the full scope of the revolutionary purpose which is in the Chicago plasform. And today it is safe to say that the momentous gravity of this threatened political revolution causes far more anxiety than the mere proposition to open the mints to the free coinage of silver. Mr. Coudert sees behind it a movement in favor of almost pure democracy.

"In fact, it was pointed out by ex-Judge Davis, for many years chief justice of the supreme court and an able jurist, that another confessed purpose of the Popocratic party, as stated by Judge Clark, is of itself convincing proof that something like pure democracy is the ultimate aim of the Popocratic party. For Judge Clark says that the party will, if in centrol of congress, so legislate as to pass over to the government the ownership of all trunk lines of railway and the telegraph. Of course, there are some incidental purposes, as, for instance, imposition of an income taxnot restrained, as would be any one now constitutionally levied, so as to be free from discrimination—so as to confiscate. The meeting will be an important one by taxation as large a portion of the property of those who have possession as any congress might see fit. There would also be legislation which would prevent probably any combination of capital such as has made the industrial development of the United States possible and so splendidly advanced since the civil war.

"It is this appreciation of the momentous gravity of the purposes which are really animating the revolutionary movement that induced Justices Brown and Clement to decline renomination for the supreme court bench, declina tions which will probably be followed by several others. The free coinage proposition, if it stood alone and were the single issue of the Popocratic party, might not have impelled these jurists to take this step.

"But they see, as the abler lawyers of the bar have seen within a few weeks, this evening at 7.45 o'clock. This is the and, especially since Judge Clark's arwas published, bave been fully able to understand, that free silver is • The regular monthly meeting of the only an incident, almost a mask for the real purposes of this party."

Ronesty In the South.

A canvass of the views of southern manufacturers and business men made by the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record shows only 15 out of 151 from whom replies were received favoring free silver coinage; a few are doubtful, and 124 pronounce themselves as dead against free coinage. There is nothing surprising in this. In proportion as the men interviewed represent the solvent and intelligent part of the community will the responses for sound money preponderate. Bankrupts hope that the chaos incident to a change of money standard will help them. The foolish favor it because they are foolish, silver mine owners favor it from interest, and would be repudiationists from dishonest motives. But the h mesty and intelligence of the country, north and south. are against it, and we believe that they constitute a big majority .- Philadel-

Bryan has unrolled a few thousand miles of his speech again this week. As usual, it appeals to prejudice, not reason.

AT ADAMS TODAY.

Mrs. Kane Assaults Robert Shaw with Almost Fatal Results-Daucers Coming-Horse and Foot Races at Zylonite Saturday-Miss Georgianna Brock to be Married-Events of the Evening--Mass for the Late Father McKenna-Saturday's Heats in the Quoit Handicap.

ALMOST FATALLY INJURED.

Mrs. Kane, a New Comer, Assaults Robert Shaw Saturday Night.

Saturday night Robert Shaw, who boards at Mrs. Bradsleys, in the Needham block on Depot street, was struck on the head by Mrs. Kane, who boards in the same house, with a coffee-bowl and as a result came very near bleeding to death.

Both parties are new arrivals in town, having come from Fall River to work in the new Berkshire mill. Mrs. Kane claims that Shaw insulted her and tha she struck him atter he had taken hold of her and torn her dress. A very bad gash was inflicted. Dr. A. K. Boom was called and he had some little difficulty in resuscitating Shaw, who was weak from the loss of blood. The profuse flow was stopped and the physician closed the wound with eight silver pins.

Mrs. Kane and Shaw were both in court this morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. Mrs. Kane was fined $10 and

The teachers of the Blackinton schools are preparing for a New England supper to be held in school hall on Saturday evening, October 24. The cost of supper will be ten cents. In addition to the supper there will be a short entertainment by the school children. The proceeds of the supper will be used for the purpose of buying pictures for the different rooms. During the past vacation the walls and ceilings were calsimined and painted and the teachers take this means of raising money to still further carry on the work of beautifying the school rooms. It ir hoped that all who are interested in our schools will lend a helping hand and make the undertaking a grand success.

Washington, Oct. 19.--Secretary Lament to-day transmitted to the secretary of the treasury his estimate of appropriations required by the war department for the next fiscal year. The aggregate is $53,875.678. The estimate for the running expenses of the war office in Washington is $1,404,-246, showing a reduction in the annual expenses for salaries and contingencies in that office of $621,942 from the estimates of four years ago. The other estimates in detail are as follows: Pay of the army, as fixed by law, 1,522,880.15; subsistence of the army, $1.659.837.50; quartermaster's supplies, $2,200,000; incidental expenses of the army, $600,000; barracks and quarters, meluding hospital construction, $536,-200; shooting ranges, $25,000; cavalry and artillery horses, $130,000; army transportation, $2,500,000; clothing, $1,100,000; medical supplies, $140,200; ordnance department, $1,131,000; military academy, $521,812; arsenals, $139,-706; military posts, national cemeteries, and national parks, $1,556,380; national soldiers' !homes, $3,443,214; artificial limbs for soldiers of the late war, $191,000; public buildings and grounds in Washington, $139,992; miscellaneous items, $402,000; rivers and harbors, $5.349.000, to meet payments on existing contracts, the department at this time being unable to say what sum will be required by future contracts for which authority exists.

Sez Coast Defense The estimate for fortifications and sea const defense has been increased to $15,324,298. In connection with his timute Secretary Lamont has made public the following statement of the condition of his work: On the first of July, 1893, but one modern gun had been placed in position. On the first of July, 1897, we shall have completed defenses with armament as follows: Thirteen 12-inch. thirty-seven 10-inch. eight s-inch and four rapid-fire guns and eighty 12-inch mortars. For the the fifteen years preceding 1890 no appropriations had been made for engineering work on our permanent coast defenses, except the small and steadily decreasing sum annually allowed for the "protection, preservation and re-pair" of existing work which, though cbsolete as a main reliance, had been so incorporated in the modern defensive projects as to play an important cuxiliary part. In 1690 was made the i.rst appropriation ($1,221,000) for modorn gun and mortar batteries, followed by one of $750,000 in 1891 and by an-

Gen. Grosvenor Now Estimates 292 Votes Sure for McKinley.

SOME DOUBT ABOUT A FEW STATES

Kansas, Virginia, Tennessee and Missouri Not Placed in the Sure Column, But He Expects They Will Give Sublime Porte. Their Votes to McKinley.

Washington, Oct. 19.-The following revised estimate has been received here from Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio: "There have been some significant changes in the situation since my first bulletin, and I have taken very great pains, by the use of all available means, to ascertain substantially what the result is to be. There is yet some doubt and ancertainty about some of the states, but I think the following may be safely placed in the absolutely sure column. McKinley and Hobart will have: New England, 39; New York, 36; New Jersey, 10; Maryland, 8; Delaware, 3; Pennsylvania, 32; West Virginia, 6; Ohio, 23; Indiana, 15; Illinois, 24; Michigan, 14; Wisconsin, 12; Iowa, 13; Minnesota, 9; South Dakota, 4; Wyoming, 3; Nebraska, 8; Kentucky, 13; Oregon, 4; Washington, 4; California, 9; North Dakota, 3. Mr. Bryan Breaks a Rule Not To Make Speeches on Sunday.

DID SO TO OBLIGE A FRIEND

Mude a Brief Address at Newsboys Hall in Detroit Last Night---At His Own Request Only a Few Visitors, Outside the Boys, Were Present.

Detroit,Oct. 19.—The rule established by William J. Bryan to avoid any public utterances on Sunday was broken last night when he spoke briefly to a gathering of newsboys at the speech, in part: "Boys, I did not come to make a speech to-night, because couldn't tell what possibilities were One man, a passenger from the the surroundings of youth. We are person who aims at the stars will shoot higher, which simply means that those who have the highest ideas will ac complish the most. A meeting of this kind, where they teach patriotism, where they teach you regard for each other, respect for each other's rights, necessarily elevates your ideas, gives you broader views of life, and those views will help you to accomplish more. I want you to remember that no good ever comes to boys or men from doing wrong, and that right always pays. I know it is hard alway: to believe, but if you take the broad credited with the intention, in next you believe is right. I want you to remember this also: That you are not the only ones who are benefitted by these things, because the Creator has so arranged the things of this world that when we try to help others we help ourselves. If I leave this idea with you, I think that it may be of use to you: That the highest good that can come to you is from service-from doing something for others and you will find among your playmates that the boy who does most for the boys around him is the boy who is liked best and is the boy who enjoys himself most. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan attended services at the Westminster Presbyterian church during the morning in company with Col. I. O. Butler, Hon. Justin R. Whiting, candidate for the lieutenant-
